

Art Gallery Scavenger Hunt

Presented by the Crypto Privacy Village Junior
Cryptographer's Corner for DEF CON 34

Welcome to the Crypto and Privacy Village Junior Cryptographer's Art Gallery Scavenger Hunt! As you admire the artwork, solve these puzzles which answer the question: "How do you become a great artist?"

A Word from the Curator

My papa had never been an alpha type of guy. More likely to take tango lessons for fitness than a boxing class. But he was a wizard with India ink, making bamboo forests that looked like they could jump off the page. I have a Grand Canyon that seemed to echo without a sound. Last November, for Thanksgiving, he made each of us a placemat with a character from Charlie Brown. My Lucy was the best. It's hung up in my room, right next to my Grand Canyon. The echo is probably her laughter as she pulls the football away one more time, made by an artist who doesn't need to make a big fuss to prove he's a big deal.

Creating Success

Although for some, being an artist is a way to bring home the bacon, for many, art is a passion, a hobby, or a form of relaxation, and not a money-making endeavor. Even professional artists often barely make enough selling their work to cover their time and supplies.

Putting it All Together

Now that you've learned about being a great artist, what is one of the things that tend to happen on the way to a satisfactory work?
